The Clark County Home Show Opens at the Clark County Fairgrounds

Not since 2016 has Clark County seen a Home & Garden Show, but that all changes this weekend at the Clark County Fairgrounds. The Western Ohio Home Builders Association along with their presenting sponsor, ADT Solar is excited to announce the return of the Clark County Home & Garden Show. Running for two days, March 11 & 12, the Clark County Home Show will help usher in Spring as we set our clocks to daylight savings time and spring forward an hour. Leading the way in home renovation, the Clark County Home & Garden Show will feature numerous motivating ideas for your home! Home remodeling experts will be on hand to answer all your questions and will be ready to bring your ideas to life. With more than 60 professional service companies, there is certain to be something for every homeowner. We will also have some direct sales vendors including Tastefully Simple, Pampered Chef, Scentsy, and many others. Most of the companies represented are small business, local professionals and they are excited to talk with you about your home needs.

Nothing breathes new life into a home more than a great new kitchen or bath. For homeowners looking to turn their backyard into a staycation destination, this is the place to start! Now more than ever homeowners are investing back into their homes, and they need a place to start their search for the right contractor or service professional. The Clark County Home and Garden Show provides the opportunity for consumers to see the latest and greatest in home renovation and outdoor living.

One of the hottest issues today is rising utility costs. Come out to the show and talk with a variety of industry professionals that can help you reduce those costs! Add insulation, change to geothermal heating, go solar, replace your drafty windows and doors. There are tax credits for available and these service professionals can discuss all the ways to help you reduce your energy costs.

The Clark County Fairgrounds is located at 4401 S. Charleston Pike in Springfield, Ohio. The Clark County Home Show, presented by ADT Solar also proudly supported by ADT Security.
